

15. - BEVERAGE TAX STAMPS

Introduction:

This study is a “work in progress”. This section of the checklist has undergone a major revision in this edition, with many of the items re-numbered. I apologize for this confusion, but feel that this checklist will be much easier to use. Stamp catalogs have traditionally been organized by issue sequence. This section of the checklist has not followed that tradition for several reasons. First, the issue dates for many items have not been recorded. Secondly, some designs have been used at several different times and listing them more than once would be very confusing. Prior versions of this checklist tried to organize the stamps by “type of use”. It was very difficult to determine a “type of use” for a stamp from an unknown source. You can still determine the “Type of Use” by looking at the alpha letters at the beginning of the catalog number.

I have decided it would be much easier to use a checklist that separates these stamps by design and size. In this edition, they are first listed by border design, then by size. Then other characteristics that will be explained by each item. That should make locating these stamps in the checklist much easier.

Many items listed here have come from Finance Ministry announcements in the Royal Gazette. While they provide much information, the stamp descriptions leave something to be desired. They are rather vague in describing characteristics that would be helpful in identification. Of the items that do not have illustrations, their placement has been made – in many cases by nothing more than a guess – based on best available information. If the actual items become available in the future, some of these items may need to be moved to a different classification.

B - WAYUPHAK BIRD CODES

All of the beverage stamps in this section contain a central medallion containing an image of the WaYuPhak bird (a creature from Thai mythology) which is used as the logo of the Excise Department. Several different designs have been used as outlined below:

C - ALPHA CODES for catalog numbers based on “Type of Use”

C1 - AF - FOREIGN ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE TAX STAMPS (อากรแสตมป์สุราต่างประเทศ)

A Ministry of Finance law issued on 23 July 1973 provides color codes for stamps to be affixed to alcoholic beverage containers imported into Thailand. They are:

- A - Black----- for Beer
- B - Blue ----- for Wine, Champagne, Sherry, Vermouth, etc.
- C - Green ----- for Whiskeys
- D - Orange----- for Liqueurs, Rum, Gin, Martini, Vodka, Sake, Peppermint Schnapps, etc.
- E – Purple or violet---- for Brandies
- F - Yellow ----- for Chinese alcoholic beverages and Sam Thap (triple distilled) alcohol.

Two different methods of identifying alcohol content can be seen on containers in Thailand. One is in “Proof” and the other in “Degrees”. For the purposes of this study, 200 proof = 100 percent or 100 degrees.

C2 - AD – Unspecified DOMESTIC ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE TAX STAMPS (อากรแสตมป์สุราในประเทศ)

C2.1 - AB - SPECIAL BLENDED ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES (อากรแสตมป์สุราปรุงพิเศษ)

Specially blended alcoholic beverages (Mekong, Saeng Thip, etc) are distilled beverages, which use Sam Thap (triple distilled) alcohol as their basis but have had the alcoholic content reduced to less than 80 degrees.

The “blending” involves the use of herbs which have been extracted as an essence and then mixed into the Sam Thap alcohol.

C2.2 - AC - FERMENTED ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE (อากรแสตมป์สุราแช่)

These stamps are used on alcoholic beverages, which are produced by fermentation rather than a distillation process, such as Wine, Champagne, and Wine Cooler type beverages.

C2.3 - AG – FRUIT BASED ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE (อากรแสตมป์สุราผลไม้)

These stamps are used on alcoholic beverages with a fruit base. The exact nature of these drinks is not understood at this time. It is probable that they were used on early domestic wines and were the forerunners of the Fermented Alcoholic Beverage stamps listed below.

C2.4 - AM - BLENDED ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE (อากรแสตมป์สุราผสม)

Blended alcoholic beverages (Chieng Chun, Hong Thong, Saeng Thip) are distilled beverages which use White Alcohol or Sam Thap as their basis but have been modified. It has strengths of less than 80 degrees. The modification makes use of Thai or Chinese herbs enclosed in thin porous cloth bags and steeped in the White or Sam Thab alcohol, and also by percolating or macerating methods.

On the surface, these stamps all appear to be small, wide bordered light blue stamps. In fact, they are a complicated series of stamps that require much additional study to uncover all of their mysteries. There are two different designs for the WaYuPhak bird in the center medallion, there are different fonts used for the text on the left, there are secret marks, phosphor tagging, and many different fonts used for the black text on the right side.

C2.5 - AO – ALCOHOL (อากรแสตมป์แอลกอฮอล์)

Sam Thab alcohol (ethanol) is a distilled product of 80 degrees or higher. It is used in two ways:

A – In industrial applications, or which has been modified for consumption under methods established by the Director of the Excise Department (see Blended & Special Blended alcoholic beverages above).

B – In medical, pharmaceutical or scientific applications, or which may be added to liquid fuels such as gasoline under methods established by the Director of the excise Department. The stamps in this section were used on this type of product.

The term Sam Thap originally referred to a product that was triple distilled to increase its strength and purity. The term is still used today, but the alcohol is distilled by more a modern method in a single process.

C2.6 - AS - SPECIAL ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE TAX STAMPS (อากรแสตมป์สุราพิเศษ)

Special Alcoholic beverages are distilled alcoholic beverages produced by special methods. They have strengths of less than 80 degrees and exist in two types:

- 1 – Whiskey, brandy, rum, gin, and other foreign types.
- 2 – Kao Liang, Chiang Chun, Bun Kui or other types of Chinese alcoholic beverages.

C2.7 - AW or CW - WHITE ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES (อากรแสตมป์สุราขาว) or COMMUNITY DISTILLED (white) alcohol.

White alcohol is a colorless distilled alcoholic beverage which is free of additives and which has strengths of less than 80 degrees. It is currently produced at 56 or 65 degree strength and then brought down to a drinkable level by addition of pure water. White alcoholic beverages are available in 28 degree, 30 degree, 35 degree, and 40 degree strengths.

C3 - NON-ALCHOLIC BEVERAGE STAMPS (อากรแสตมป์เครื่องดื่ม)

C3.1 - ND - DOMESTIC NON-ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE TAX

(อากรแสตมป์เครื่องดื่มในประเทศ)

Most, but not all, domestic labels use Thai numbers in the right section.

C3.2 - NF - FOREIGN NON-ALCOHOLIC DRINK TAX

(อากรแสตมป์เครื่องดื่มต่างประเทศ)

Most, but not all, foreign labels use Arabic numbers in the right section.

Illustration is of an AF-1020.E2 stamp

These stamps were for imported alcohol. Phibun spelling is used on this stamp. The text on the left side reads “Alcoholic Beverage Stamp 94”. The “94” in the illustration is not mentioned in the Gazette description, but probably refers to 2494 (1951) – the year of use for this stamp. The text on the right reads “80 satang”. The text in an arc over the Victory Monument on each end reads “Whose name will be added (to the monument) first?”. On bi-colored stamps, the frame, Victory Monument and central medallion are in the first color. The text on left and right of the center medallion are in the second color. New values were added on the dates shown below.

These stamps were announced in an Excise Dept announcement on 9 June 2535 (1992). The stamps are printed by De La Rue and held by them until authorized to be released to the manufacturer by the Excise Department. The central design is a 3D hologram. The text to the right reads “Excise Department; Ministry of Finance; Thailand”. There are control numbers on each end of the label. On the left end – The first 2 digits identify the importer; the other 4 digits signify the brand. Codes on the right end: 01 – Scotch, 02 – Brandy, 03 – Gin, 04 – Rum (01 is the only code now in use). The other 4 digits are the BE year (replace the “xxxx” in the text below with the 4 digit BE year, and add the “year initial” [see table below] to the Item number to make a complete number).

15.B1 – Rope Border – Style 1 – “Thai design”

This section is not listed by size as some descriptions contain stamps of several sizes. It is a small but confusing section, so identification of stamps may prove be difficult. The sections are roughly listed in issue order. The major problem is that there is not enough material to study to determine the design caetgory of each type and their date of use. There were at least 3 settings of the design. It is based in the size of the stars and bird in the center medallion, and the font used in the Thai text.

Large Star – big bird

Medium Star – smaller bird

Small Star – smaller bird

To date, it is not certain if these design changes apply to both the plain background stamps and those with wave like water background. The few plain background stamps seen so far use the large bird type.

In 1957 a new set of stamps was issued for imported alcoholic products. They differed in two ways from the old set. First, there are two sizes of stamps in this set, a small size for satang values and a larger size for baht values. The second difference is that each value is printed in a different color. This was intended to make it easier to identify the different values. Five new stamps were also issued to replace the orange stamps for repackaged items.

Small Bird "Specimen" detail

The De La Rue specimen stamps use the “Small Bird” design. There are many small differences. In the specimen the bird is slightly smaller and there is more space between the wing and the circular frame. The “star” designs on each side of the medallion are also smaller. The Thai font is also different.

15.B1.a – ALCOHOL (อากรแสตมป์แอลกอฮอล์)

Sam Thab alcohol (ethanol) is a distilled product of 80 degrees or higher. It is used in two ways:

A – In industrial applications, or which has been modified for consumption under methods established by the Director of the Excise Department (see Blended & Special Blended alcoholic beverages above).

B – In medical, pharmaceutical or scientific applications, or which may be added to liquid fuels such as gasoline under methods established by the Director of the excise Department. The stamps in this section were used on this type of product.

The term Sam Thap originally referred to a product that was triple distilled to increase its strength and purity. The term is still used today but the alcohol is distilled by more a modern method in a single process

This stamp has a very fancy border and center medallion. It is unfortunate that the only example available is not very clear. The bottom illustration is a partial re-construction of the design. Please note that an actual stamp will vary from this drawing in many minor details. It is provided only as a guide. The printed text in the left section reads “เสตมพ์เบรื่องคิม” (Non-Alcoholic Beverage Stamp). The Thai text in the right section reads “440 ccs”. The text is italic. On the illustration is a purple handstamp that read “Henry Waugh & Co., Ltd.” and the date “-1 พค 2499 (1 May 1956).

AD-70305	AD-6005	20 x 100 mm	16.5x98 mm	#22: D-017		30 Apr 2497 (1954)

For use on Normal, Special & Blended alcoholic drinks. The large figure in the right segment indicates the strength of alcohol in degrees. The main inscription in the left segment reads “แอลกอฮอล์” (Alcoholic Beverage Stamp). The small figure below the main inscription denotes the container volume in liters. The stamp has perforated “ศ” Thai initials. NOTE: The illustrated stamp was issued some 20 years after these stamps were introduced and may differ from the original stamps in minor details. It has a vertical row of perfs on each side which is not mentioned in the original Gazette announcement. The illustrated stamp has a “Bubble” type border.

Stamps were for repackaged retail products produced from the bulk imported alcohol using stamps in the AF-70550 set. The text in the left section reads “แสดงมูลค่าต่างประเภท” (Rebottled Alcohol Stamp) with the quantity under it in black ink. Right section gives the stamp value in black. A tax increase in 1985 created new stamps – see AF-70585.

A new design, slightly longer than the non-alcoholic stamps. Issued at about the same time as the new purple Special Alcohol stamp shown below. There is a narrow border at the top and bottom and a wide border at each end. The center medallion contains an older style bird with four tail feathers. The design on each side of the center medallion is also new. The printed Thai text on the left reads “White Alcohol Stamp”. The degrees and capacity are added to the basic label in black on the right side. The date is also added in black to the right side.
