

16. – Imported Alcoholic Beverages

Introduction: The 2019 previous edition, had all the beverage stamps, non-alcoholic, imported and domestic alcohol listed in one chapter. Stamps were arranged by border design type, and Wayuphak bird design. In addition, the numbering was also confusing and complicated.

In the new 2027 edition, I have split the stamps in non-alcoholic beverages chapter 15, imported alcoholic beverages chapter 16 and domestic alcoholic beverages in chapter 17. I have also tried to put the stamps in chronological order. Many of the stamps have additional print runs, sometimes years later. In addition, some of the stamps were surcharged, sometimes years after the issuing. All these variations are listed under the basic stamps.

For the stamp numbering, I have numbered the issued stamp with AFxx. A for Alcohol, F for foreign, followed by xx, a running number. Sometimes, some numbers are skipped because I expect some new discoveries in the future. Hopefully after revision 2027, we do not have to change stamps numbering again.

The strength of the alcohol is given in degrees, in which 100 degrees is 200 proof.

Not all the stamps listed in this catalog will exist. The listings are based on Royal Gazette announcements, but it is not always clear if all the stamps were actually issued.

The alcohol taxation before 1943.

The first actual stamps to tax alcoholic beverages were introduced on February 6, 1943. Before that time, it is not clear how taxation was done. In some countries taxation was done via transport licenses, which allowed the produced alcohol to leave the domestic factory or the imported alcohol to leave customs. Below picture shows a Thai transport license. Note the stamp like design.

	First line reads: License to transport alcohol or whiskey Second line reads: LekTee or number Third line reads: 2594011 Fourt line reads: year BE 2475 or 1932 Purple handstamp reads Dec 8, ?? Red handstamp reads MaiChai or not used Newly added item.

The first official announced stamps were issued on 6 February 1943.

For imported alcoholic beverages. No alcohol could leave customs without having a stamp attached first. For bulk alcohol that would be rebottled, special stamps would be replied, with new different rebottling stamps used after rebottling.

AF-014. The 94 added on the left possibly represents a printing in 2494 or 1953

Phibun spelling is used in the Thai wording. In the middle is a circular frame containing an image of the WaYuPhak bird. The words ‘กระทรวงการคลัง’ [Ministry of Finance] are above the bird image. In the left space are the words ‘สแตมป์สุรา’ [Alcoholic Beverage Stamp]. The value is printed on the right. At the very end of both sides of the stamp are images of the Victory Monument, and around this are the words ‘ชื่อใครจะได้จารึกก่อน’ [Whose Name Will be the First to be Inscribed?]. Stamps printed in black are for affixing to imported alcoholic beverage containers. Those printed in red are for affixing to alcoholic beverages that have been rebottled. Not sure which values exist in red for rebottling, there are never been seen. On 6 March 1950, under Finance Ministry law #12: F-1/4, all of the below stamps were announced again without specifying a clear difference with AF-001 to AF-009

Security Perforations and 'S' Perfin Introduced

In a memo of October 8, 1951 to all provincial governors, the Excise Department announced that all further alcohol stamps would have perforations to prevent dishonest people to re-use stamps and thus avoiding paying alcohol taxes. The perforations were meant to weaken the stamps and thus making it more difficult to remove them in one piece from the bottle. These perforations on both sides of the central design of the stamp had the Thai letter 'ส' or S standing for Surat or Alcohol, or the perforations were in straight lines.

In 1957 a new set of stamps was issued for imported alcoholic products. They differed in two ways from the old set. First, there are two sizes of stamps in this set, a small size for satang values and a larger size for baht values. The second difference is that each value is printed in a different color. This was intended to make it easier to identify the different values. Five new stamps were also issued to replace the orange stamps for rebottled items. In the center is a circular frame containing an image of the WaYuPhak bird. Above the bird image are the words 'กระทรวงการคลัง ประเทศไทย' [Ministry of Finance Country of Thailand] and on the bottom are the words 'กรมสรรพสามิต' [Excise Department]. On both the left and right sides of the circular frame is the perforated initial 'ส' [S]. In the left space are the words 'แสดงมูลค่า' [Alcoholic Beverage Stamp] and the value is indicated on the right side. For stamps used for rebottling, the word on the left reads 'แสดงมูลค่าเปลี่ยนภาชนะ' [Rebottled Alcoholic Beverage Stamp].

On July 17, 1972 a new domestic and imported alcoholic beverage tax rate structure was brought into use by two Ministerial Laws. These new laws had a very complicated tax structure resulting in 136 new stamps being issued for imported alcoholic drinks during 1973. One batch on 10 January 1973 and another batch of additional values on 6 December 1973.

Where possible, the issue of January 1973 is combined with the issue of December 1973. The issue of December 1973 is marked with  at the quantity column.

On July, 1973, the future color for stamps on imported products was announced. This color scheme was used at least till early 2020.

Blue stamps are for wine, champagne, sherry and vermouth.

Orange stamps are for liquor, rum, gin, vodka, martini, sake and peppermint.

Purple stamps are for brandy.

Yellow stamps are for Chinese and Sam Thab triple distilled alcohol).

Green stamps are for whiskey.

Black stamps are for beer.

In 1985 tax rates changed and these stamps were issued to replace the previous series. Three colors were again issued. Text in left section reads “Foreign Alcoholic Beverage Stamp”. The text in the upper section of the medallion reads “Ministry of Finance, Thailand”. In the lower section, “Excise Department”. The volume is on the left under the primary text, and the value in baht is in the right section in black ink. There are two vertical rows of perforations on each side of the central medallion.

Seagram Royal Salute Scotch Whiskey 2544 (2001)

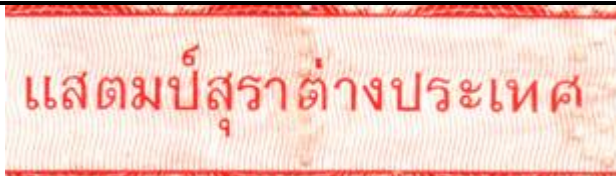

Johnny Walker Pure Malt Scotch 2546 (2003)

These stamps were announced in an Excise Dept announcement on 9 June 2535 (1992). The stamps are printed by De La Rue and held by them until authorized to be released to the manufacturer by the Excise Department. The central design is a 3D hologram. The text to the right reads “Excise Department; Ministry of Finance; Thailand”. There are control numbers on each end of the label. On the left end – The first 2 digits identify the importer; the other 4 digits signify the brand. Codes on the right end: 01 – Scotch, 02 – Brandy, 03 – Gin, 04 – Rum (01 is the only code now in use). The other 4 digits are the BE year (replace the “xxxx” in the text below with the 4 digits BE year, and add the “year initial” [see table below] to the Item number to make a complete number).
