

CHAPTER 15 NON-ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE STAMPS

อากรแสตมป์เครื่องดื่ม

Introduction.

In the 2019 edition of the Thai Revenue stamp handbook, Chapter 15, the beverage section has 125 pages. Stamps are organized on border type, with the stamp numbering related to the border. This system mixes up non-alcoholic, imported alcohol and domestic produced alcohol. Also, any chronological order on issue date is lost.

In the 2025 edition of the Revenue Stamp Catalog, I did split out the section in its three main parts, chapter 15 for non-alcoholic beverages imported and domestic, chapter 16 for imported alcohol and chapter 17 for domestically produced alcohol. I have tried to keep the chronological order of the date of issue as much as possible. However, the system will also not be perfect because sometimes, stamps were surcharged or overprinted many years after the original issue date.

Although it looks quite unorganized, I have kept the numbering system the same as used in the 2019 edition of the catalog. Domestic produced non-alcoholic beverages start with the prefix ND and imported beverages with the prefix NF.

Regarding pricing, revenue stamps are rarely traded, with many stamps even never traded in the open market. This makes prices very volatile depending on the amount of interest at a given moment. For this reason, I did not try to put any stamp prices in the 2025 edition.

Chapter 15 has 3 main sections;

15.1 Non-Alcoholic Beverage stamps.

15.2 Non-Alcoholic Beverage stamps surcharged on Alcoholic Beverage stamps.

15.3 Non-Alcoholic Beverage stamps surcharged on Tobacco stamps.

WaYuPhak Bird Codes.

All of the beverage stamps in this chapter have a central medallion containing an image of the WaYuPhak bird (a creature from Thai mythology) which is used as the logo of the Excise Department. On top of the bird is written กระทรวงการคลังประเทศไทย or Ministry of Finance. Below the bird is written กรมสรรพสามิต or Excise Department. Several different bird designs have been used as outlined below. The actual bird design used in the stamps is indicated by the code in the description of each stamp. Some of the longer running beverage stamps look very similar, but have a different bird design. The bird design will help in the identification.

On the left of the stamps is printed แสตมป์เครื่องดื่ม or Beverage Stamp. In case of surcharged Tobacco or Alcohols stamps the line อักษรแสตมป์เครื่องดื่ม is added by either hand-stamp or printing. This stands for non-alcoholic beverage stamp. Besides the bird design, the fonts, border design and background will aid in the identification of the various series.

In general, red color stamps are used on imported drinks, while green colored stamps were used on domestically produced drinks. However, sometimes green stamps were also used on imported products and visa versa for the red stamps. But in this case, if the volumes were printed in Thai numerals, this indicated domestic drinks, while if they are printed in Arabic numerals, this indicated imported drinks.

Be aware that the excise department was quite loose in following procedures, so above color scheme and numerals scheme will have exceptions.

15.1 Non-Alcoholic Beverage stamps.

The Royal Beverage Act required that as of April 1, 1953, producers and importers of beverages had to begin affixing stamps, or begin using bottle caps produced by the Excise Department or caps registered with the Excise Department. I have never seen any of those bottle caps, so only stamps will be covered in this section.

This stamp has a very fancy border and center medallion. It is unfortunate that the only example available is not very clear. The bottom illustration is a partial re-construction of the design. Please note that an actual stamp will vary from this drawing in many minor details. It is provided only as a guide. The printed text in the left section reads “เสตมปีเครื่องดื่ม” (Non-Alcoholic Beverage Stamp). The Thai text in the right section reads “440 cc”. The text is Italic. On the stamp is a purple handstamp that reads “Henry Waugh &amp; Co., Ltd.” and the date “-1 พค 2499 (1 May 1956).

A second set of beverage stamps was announced on February 20, 1959. This set also contained 2 stamps for imports and domestically produced drinks, this set was printed for many years, using at least 3 different printers. A new ministerial law announced 2 new stamps on November 1967. The description of the 2 new stamps is very similar as described in the 1959 announcement. It is believed that the only change was to a different printer in Korea. The Korea printed stamps having some minor design differences. In below tables, all three printers will be listed

It must be noted that the colors chosen for the stamps is the same as the first set. Green for domestically produced alcohol and red for imports. This color scheme was maintained for many years till 2020.

On April 10, 1961, a non-alcoholic beverage stamp for 1,320 cc was announced. This stamp was a provisional stamp surcharged on an alcoholic beverage stamp. It can be found in chapter 15.2.

It was not until October 13, 1976 when the first non-provisional beverage stamps for the container size of 1,320 cc were issued. This stamp can be easily distinguished due to its large size.

New stamps introduced in year 2020.

These round, self- adhesive stamps can be found on some imported Non-Alcoholic beer and mineral waters. It also seems that on certain domestically produced soft drinks, these stamps are used till the government permit process is finished after which the stamps are eliminated.

Imported drinks have a red color outer circle, while domestic drink stamps have a blue outer circle.

The ND-80040.B domestic stamp was used early 2020 for a very limited time and is quite rare.

Chapter 15.2. Alcoholic-Beverage stamps surcharged for non-alcoholic beverages.

The surcharges made on alcoholic beverage stamps was done often many years after the original stamps were issued. The issue dates mentioned are for the original stamps, not when the stamps were surcharged. If known, the date is given when actual seen on a product.

The announcement yet another Thai beverage stamp was on April 10, 1961. It was an alcoholic beverage stamp overprinted for use as a non-alcoholic beverage stamp. It was needed for a new size of domestic beverage container being brought onto the market that had a capacity of 1,320 cc (cubic cm).
